  - 1. In all racing classes, where an electric timer is used, two persons shall record the times in writing.
  - 2. Timing shall begin as the horse's nose reaches the starting line and will be stopped when the horse's nose reaches the finish line.
  - 3. At a signal from the starter or timer, such as the word "go," the rider will use the appropriate pattern for the designated race.
- B. The use of two stopwatches will be approved in the event of irreparable malfunction of the electronic system during the show. No more than a 30-minute delay will be allowed. The times of the two stopwatches will be averaged to determine the time.
- C. In all racing classes, when the rider's time is not recorded due to any timer equipment malfunction or fault of any person other than the rider, the rider is entitled to a re-run.
- D. A clearly visible white start and finish line shall be furnished in all racing classes. If races are run before performance classes, the line must be removed by raking or other appropriate means.
- E. All metal barrels must have both ends closed.
- F. The fastest times win the races.
  - 1. Run-offs are used to break ties, but the run-off times need not exceed the time for the next lower placing.
  - 2. If both riders agree, then a coin toss may be used in place of a run-off to determine the order of placing.
- G. Gates must be closed during all racing classes.
  - 1. Riders in racing classes may not run their horses through the gate; however, they are permitted running starts from inside the gate, and they need not wait for the gate to be closed.
  - 2. The gatekeeper must close the gates and keep them closed until a run is completed.
- H. In all classes where there are distinct markers, such as barrels and poles, the distances must be measured either by a pre-marked rope or by a tape measure.
